

Table of Contents

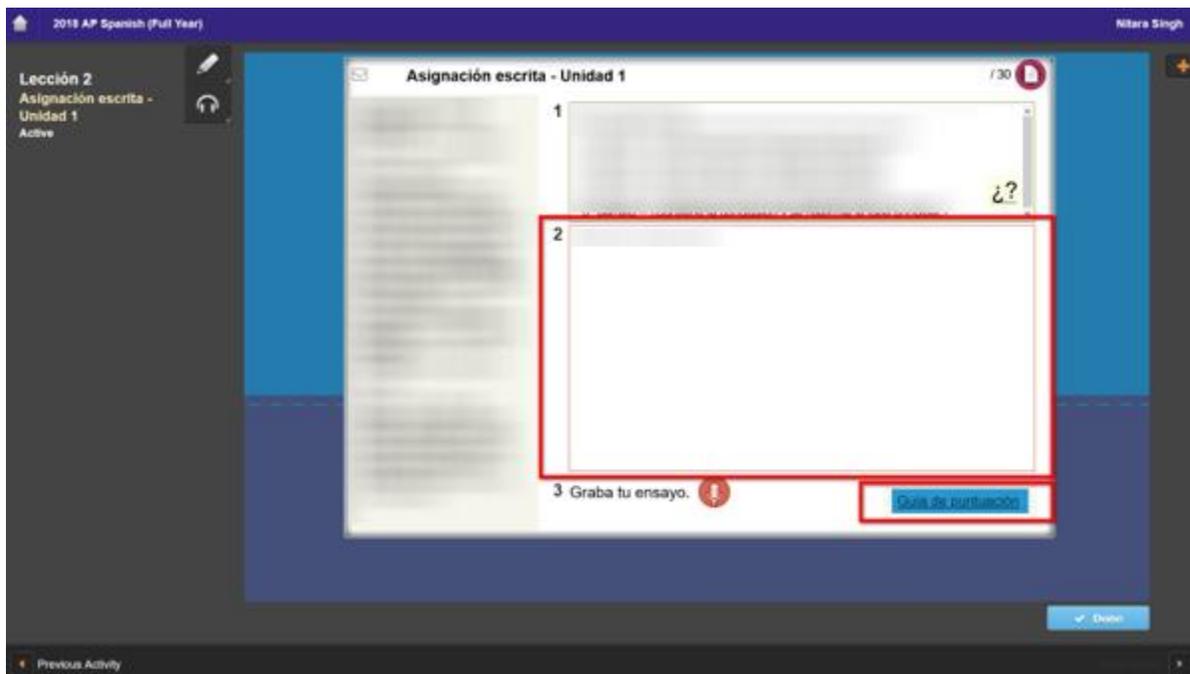

Writing Assignments	1
Speaking Assignments	3
Assessments	5

Throughout the AP World Language course, you will be asked to respond with writing assignments or speaking assignments to demonstrate mastery. These assignments will then be graded by your educator.

In the following example, you will see both a writing and speaking task within the same activity, although they can appear in separate activities.

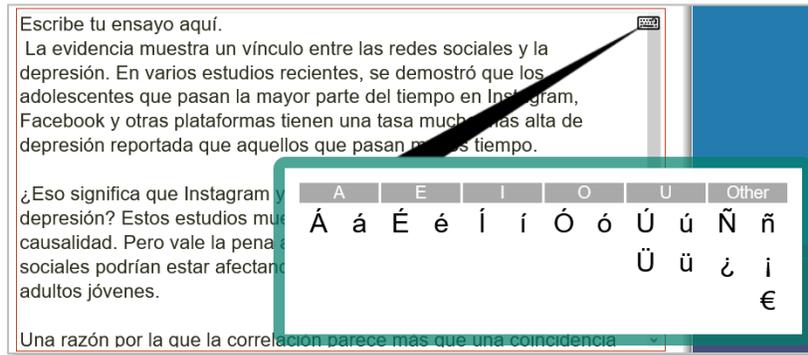

Writing Assignments

For writing assignments, you are given a box to type your response(s). Typically evaluation rubrics are included, providing guidance on what you should include in your response(s).

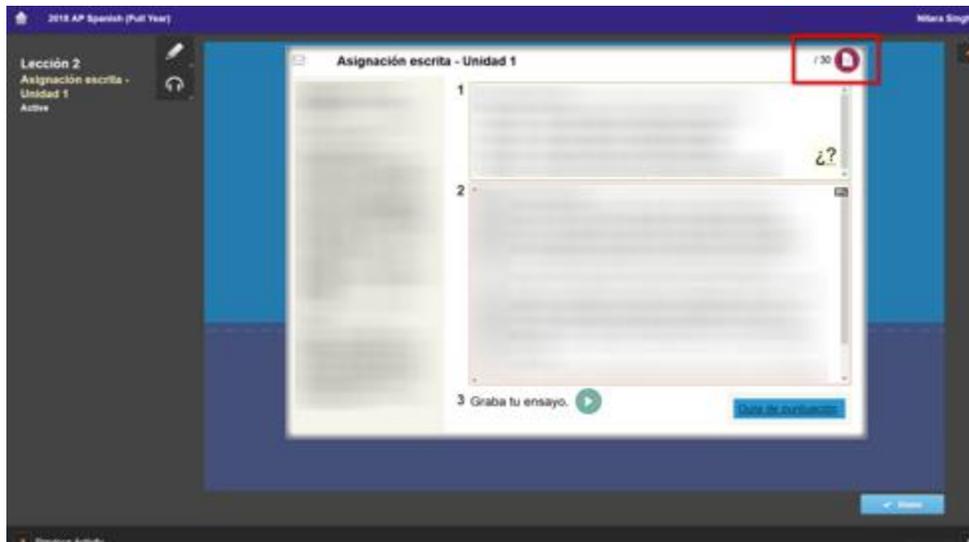

AP World Languages: Student Activity Submittal Resource

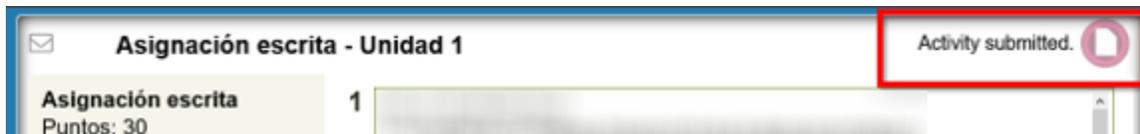

For special characters, begin typing into the text box and the keyboard icon appears at the top right.

When you are ready to submit your work, you must click the red submit button at the top right of the screen to officially record your response(s).

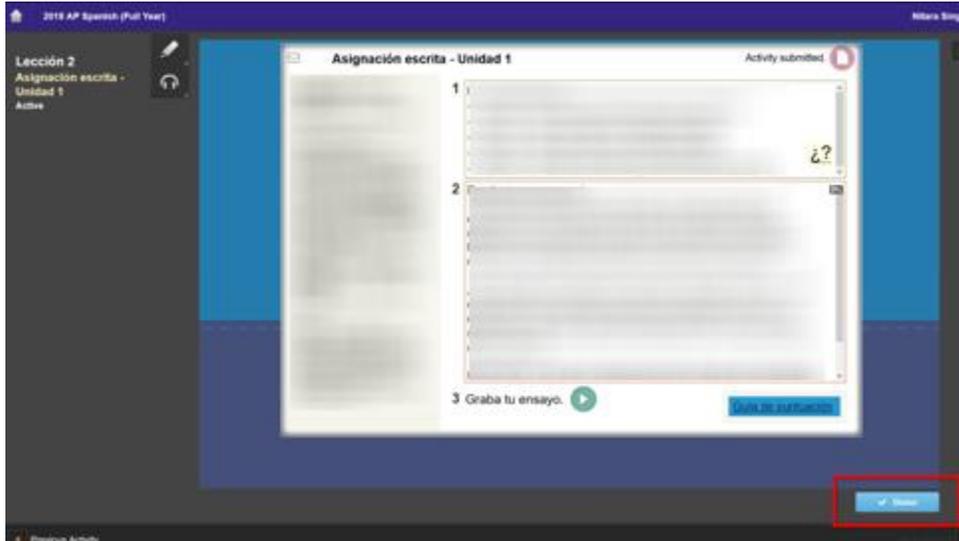

Once it has been clicked, you will see the message "Activity submitted" letting you know your response(s) have been successfully saved for teacher grading.

AP World Languages: Student Activity Submittal Resource

To move to the next activity, you will click the blue Done button located at the bottom right of the screen.

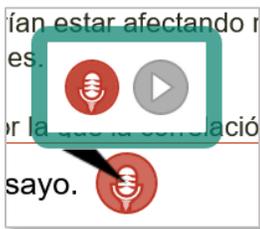

Speaking Assignments

For speaking assignments, the browser may request permission to record audio. Allow the recording to utilize this feature in the course.

To record audio, follow these steps:

1. Click the red microphone and speak your response into their microphone.

AP World Languages: Student Activity Submittal Resource

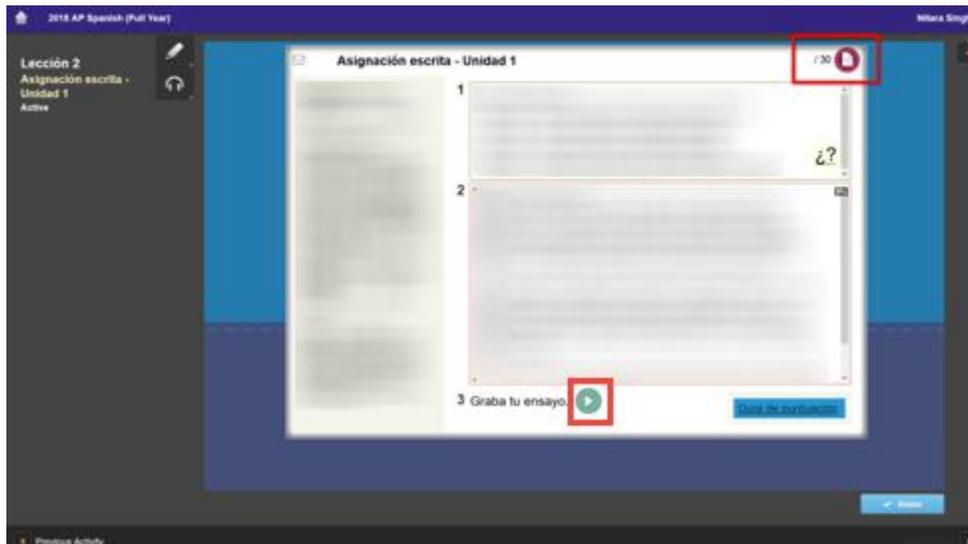

- Click the stop button to save the recording. Listen to your response and record again if needed.

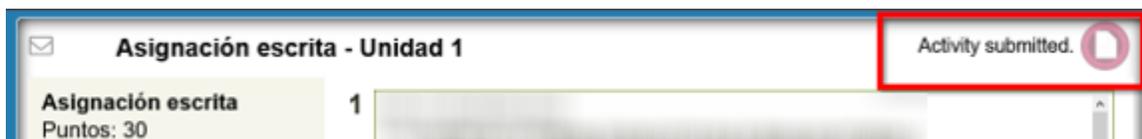

Once saved, the icon changes to a green play button.

Click the red submit button at the top right of the screen when you are ready to submit your work. This will officially record your response(s).

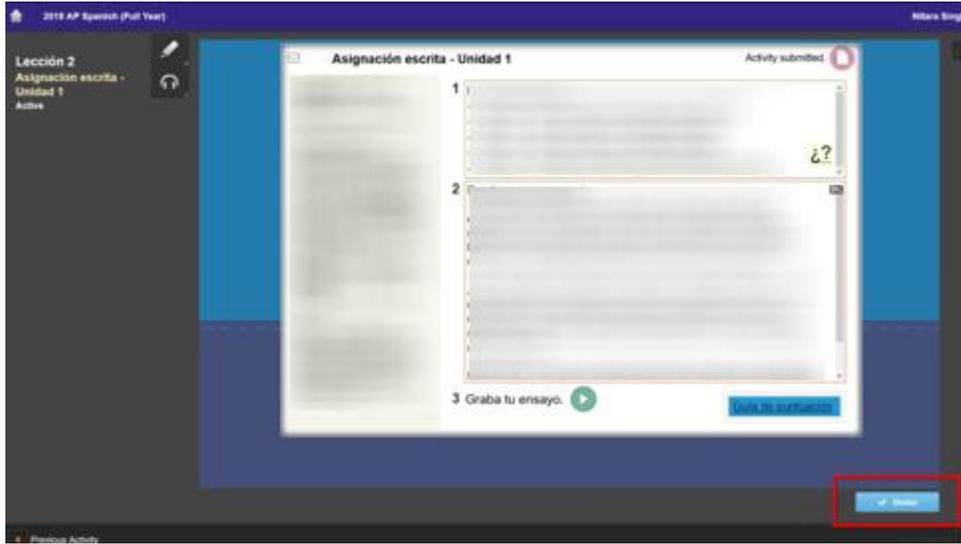

Once it has been clicked, you will see the message "Activity submitted" letting you know your response(s) have been successfully saved for teacher grading.

AP World Languages: Student Activity Submittal Resource

To move to the next activity, you will click the blue Done button located at the bottom right of the screen.

Assessments

Once you have completed the assessment, you must click the red submit button at the top right of the screen to officially record your answers.

The assessment will then be graded and your score will populate.

AP World Languages: Student Activity Submittal Resource

To move to the next activity, you will click the blue Done button located at the bottom right of the screen.

